

Reception Dresses

Young women who would have class dresses that will vie with the most expensive costumes turned out by the chief modiste of the metropolis, will find these rich fabrics capable of such an achievement.

We have given special attention to fabrics that will be suitable for these reception dresses and evening costumes, all in delicate shades. While the variety is almost endless we shall only give, in detail, a few favorite materials.

Printed Tissues are very thin, dainty fabric with invisible satin stripes and a multitude of floral designs, many of them having the appearance of hand painted flowers which stand out in forceful reality. Every one especially appropriate for reception dresses—and a small cost. Per yard 25c to 50c.

Banzai Silk has a slight resemblance to Jap silk but has more body, is firmer woven. It comes in a wide range of rich floral patterns and is decorated with embroidered dots and figures. They are all light shades such as are in demand for evening wear. Price per yard 50c.

Fancy Jacquard is a beautiful fabric for class dresses and evening costumes. It is a fine mercerized material in tasteful designs brought out in over shots of silk. Comes in solid colors and in all the evening shades that are in demand. Special value at the price we offer it. A yard 50c.

Chiffon Checks—This is a soft clinging fabric that is unusually adaptable to evening use and will make exceedingly pretty reception dresses. It is a solid colored chiffon with neat checks formed by overshot cross bars of which have the appearance of embossed work. Per yard 50c.

MILBURY GOES DRY.

The local option election held in Milbury Monday resulted in a victory for the dries, by the close vote of 31 to 27. When the result was announced the temperance people rejoiced with the ringing of the church bells and the blowing of factory whistles. The town had been wet and the one saloon moved out Tuesday, not waiting the thirty days allowed by law.

DECISION AGAINST GAMBLE.

The case of Burton O. Gamble, appealed from Mayor Bowers' court, was decided in favor of the village. Gamble was one of the auto drivers who was caught in the village net for fast running through the village last summer. He was fined by Mayor Bowers, but appealed to common pleas court. Judge Fries sustained the decision of Mayor Bowers and assessed the costs against Gamble.

SNYDER—SCHNEIDER WEDDING

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on the afternoon of Thursday, April 25, 1907, at 4 p. m., at the home of John Schneider and wife when their eldest daughter, Miss Caroline M. became the wife of Augustus W. Snyder.

At the sound of the wedding march rendered by Miss Ethel Wellstead, the bridal couple and assistants, Charles J. and Miss Lucy R. Schneider, (brother and sister of the bride) took their places in the parlor where Rev. John Born of Stony Ridge conducted the marriage ceremony.

The bride is a quiet, sweet-tempered young lady of excellent character, who will be greatly missed by numerous friends. She and her bridesmaid were attired in beautiful costumes of white.

The groom is a son of Adam Snyder and wife of Stony Ridge and is employed as Government clerk in Cincinnati. He is a young man of sterling worth and good habits.

Immediately after the ceremony an elegant wedding dinner was served to about 50 relatives.

Potted plants and cut flowers were the decorations.

They will leave for their future home in Cincinnati on Sunday. A large number of friends extend best wishes through their life's journey.

WHAT THE OFFICER SAYS

Marshal J. S. Fuller desires the JOURNAL to state that his official duties do not allow him to act as guardian of the young men and boys who amuse themselves in the manner indicated by a citizen in a recent communication to the JOURNAL. He says whenever any person will make an affidavit against anyone who has annoyed any person in the village he will gladly make the arrest and take the guilty person before the proper official for judgment.
